THE UNIFORM PRIMARIES.

Saturday Was the Last Day for Candidates to Register.

FIRST UNDER NEW LAW

Not Republican Candidate Registered for Prothonotary—Democrats Fail to Name a County Chairman or County Surveyor.

PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD JUNE 1

Saturday was the last day for candidates to register for the different County offices to be elected next fall. This is Centre county's first experience with the new uniform primary law, and public opinion is divided as to the good results to be obtained. In order to get on either the Republican or Democratic ticket it is necessary for the would be candidate to circulate a petition and get the names of 50 signers thereon. After paying the registration fee this entitles the candidate to be placed on his party ballot and voted for at the coming primaries. For some reason, either through not understanding the rules or an attack of cold feet the Democrats have no one registered for County Surveyor or County Chairman and the Republicans are without a candidate for Prothonotary. George E. Lamb, of Philipsburg; and F. Milford Pletcher, Eagleville; had the Prothonotary bee buzzing in their hats but both failed to register.

Col. Edward R. Chambers is pitted against William G. Runkle for District Attorney and there is likely to be a lively fight for this important office this fall between these two candidates. There being no opposition in their own parties their nominations at the primaries is assured.

Each party has four candidates for delegates to the State convention and as only three can be elected by either party, there will be a lively scrimmage for these honors.

The following is the complete ballot as it will be voted at the primaries June 1.

Insulted Old Glory

Sunbury, Pa.,—Pointing at a small American flag which hung in a department of the plant, George Pegg, a Canadian and a subject of Great Britain, boastfully exclaimed; "That flag is nothing more to me than an old dishrag; it's the Union Jack for me."

The news of Pegg's remarks spread like wildfire. Several hundred citizens captured Pegg on his leaving the plant where he had made the remarks. He was ordered to carry an American flag on his shoulder and march over a mile to his boarding house in Northumberland.

He was guarded on one side by a man with a rope and on the other by a man carrying a revolver. Pegg's spirit of bravado deserted him completely.

DECORATION DAY.

The Day Set Aside in Memory of Our Departed Dead.

Another Decoration Day is fast drawing near and on that sacred day the graves of those who have answered to the roll call for the last time will be adorned with spring times choicest flowers. One by one our brave old boys are passing away and it will not be long until all will have gone home.

At a meeting of Gregg Post on Saturday evening arrangements were completed for this Memorial day and the following committees appointed to decorate the graves at other cemeteries. Services will be held at Zion, Hublersburg and Snydertown on Saturday May 25th, and will be in charge of Mr. S. B. Miller, Mr. Charles Ecrenroth and Mr. John Bryan, and on Supday afternoon May 26th, services will be held at Meyer's and Shiloh cemeteries, and will be in charge of Mr. Amos Garbrick, Mr. A. V. Miller and Mr. Monroe Armor.

On Sunday morning May 26th Dr. J. Allison Platts will preach the Memorial sermon in the Presbyterian church, the Gregg Post and Company B, of the 5th Reg't, will attend these services in a body Since the Spanish—American war in 1898 thirteen members of Company B, have passed away. On Decoration Day the graves of the departed will be decorated at the cemetery and the procession will return to the Court House where Rev. James B. Stein will deliver the Memorial address.

Invitations have been extended to the Logan and Undine Fire Engine companies the Patriotic Son's of American, Company B, of the 5th Reg't. the 5th Reg't. Eagle corp of Milesburg and the Boys Brigade of Milesburg and either the Coleville or Undine Band to participate in the services of the day. If the weather is pretty the parade and services promise to be the best ever held in Bellefonte on Decoration Day.

Business houses will all be closed and every one will have an opportunity to visit the cemetery and decorate the graves of those they love who have gone to rest. It would be well for the people of the town who have lots in the cemetery to see that the grass is trimmed and carried away, a great many neglect doing this until the very last minute and then have to do the work in a hurry and when completed it looks worse than before. The school children are earnestly requested to remember the old soldiers on this day, and every one is very kindly asked to take a boquet to the post rooms during the morning of Decoration Day, so that they will have plenty of flowers, to do their decorating with. The school teachers are kindly asked to remind the children of this request from our old comrades.

Presented a Loving Cup

At a banquet Wednesday evening at the Nittany Inn, the twenty-four senior mining engineers of the coming graduating class presented Dr. M. E. Wadsworth, the dean of State College school, with a beautiful loving cup. The occasion was the anniversary of Dr. Wadsworth's sixtieth birthday, and the presentation speech was made by H. C. McIlveen. '07, State's famous all-round athelete, who is now out of all varsity athletics by reason of this institution's strict adherance to the four year rule. Hi Henry, '07, and "Joe' Mason, 07, also made addresses.

Dr. Wadsworth went to this college six years ago from the presidency of the Michigan college of mines, and in this short period has built up this school of mining and metallurgy from an enrollment of 10 students to the 120 now taking the course.

Although the legislature has done practically nothing for this school of mines, nevertheless, by tireless application to his work for six years past, during which time he has not taken a single day's vacation, Dr. Wadsworth has made State's school of mines one of the most practically useful and efficient in thiscountry.

Married.

At the bride's home near Bellefonte on Thursday evening May 9th, Mr. William H. Bathurst of Altoona and Miss Maude Miller of Valentine were united in marriage by Rev. J. B. Dunkle of Pleasant Gap. Only the relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Valentine while the bridegroom is an industrious young man. They will go to housekeeping at Roland where the bridegroom is employed.

COREY-GILMAN WEDDING.

Took Place Tuesday Morning at 1:24-Superstition.

AFTER MIDNIGHT HOUR

The Marriage was a Simple Affair in the Big New York Hotel Gotham-

THEY SAILED AT 7:30 FOR PARIS

New York, May 14.—William Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation and Mabelle Gilman were married at the Hotel Gotham Tuesday morning at 1:24 a. m.

In order to escape the unlucky thirteenth of the month William Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, the former actress, were not married until after midnight this morning. The ceremony took place in the Royal suite at the Hotel Gotham, in the presence of a small party of friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational church of Brooklyn.

The guests assembled in a small reception room in the suite and at 11 o'clock entered the dining room where the wedding supper was served.

After the supper was over the party, led by Mr. Corey and Miss Gilman, paced down the hall between the rows of palms to the double salon which was decorated to represent a small church. Broad white ribbons attached to small white posts formed an aisle down the centre of the room on either side of which were the chairs for those invited to witness the ceremony.

There was no music during the evening and there were no bridesmaids, Miss Gilman being attended only by Miss Frances Erskine Shaw, of London. Mr. Corey was unattended.

After the nuptials Mr. Corey and his bride took an automobile and were whirled away to Hoboken where they boarded the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II, which sailed at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. They occupied the captain's suite which has been especially fitted up for the trip. Mr. Corey was attended by a valet and Mrs. Corey by a maid. The pair will dine in their own rooms, and arrangements have been made so that they will not be subjected to the observations of the ship's passengers unless they desire to mingle with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Corey will proceed to Paris and will then go to the Chatean Genis, twenty-five miles from Paris, where the honeymoon will be passed. They expect to remain there until they return to America about the middle of July.

Mr. Corey's only gift to his bride was the Chatean Genis.

John Dubbs Chicken Story.

Everyone in Bellefonte is acquainted with John Dubbs. He has always been known to speak the truth, and we wouldn't for a minute doubt his word. Now when he is selling farming implements and seeds of different kinds no one ever doubts but what he is telling the truth, for he is a regular attendant at Dave Millers Sunday School and church out at Gossips Center.

Now John tells the following story and he says it was true so we believe him.

During the early Spring when the weather was so cold, David Miller one of our enterprising grocerymen had two crates of eggs for which he had paid an enormous price. He didn't want the eggs to freeze so he placed them in a warm place back of a stove. They remained there several weeks and one morning recently when he opened up his store he heard a lot of little peeps yelling he went to the egg crates and low and behold you every egg had turned out a peep. John says Mr. Miller was wonderfully surprised and went over and called him to come to the store and see the little chicks. He didn't say whether he went or not.

Now of course this is Mr. Dubbs story and for a more complete account of the tale, you must see him at his office in the Bush House block.

RECRUITING FOR U. S. ARMY.

Station for all Branches is Opened Here.

A recruiting station for the U. S. army has been opened in the Crider's Exchange building on Allegheny street.

At no time in the service has there been a better opportunity for the advancement of young men than exists at present.

The artillery corps has been increased by more than 5,000 men, and in this intelligent and interesting branch of the army alone there are and will be many excellent chances for advancement according to merit.

The signal corps is constantly in need of operators, linemen and mechanics by reason of the steady increase in use of electrical apparatus in the service. This branch of the service is very instructive, dealing, as it does, with key and wireless telegraphy, electricity, photography and military signaling.

All applicants for this branch are given a course of instruction, at no expense to them, in a school established for the purpose and equipped with the most modern instructors and appliances, and are fully competent before assignment is made to a permanent station. There are also vacancies in the cavalry and infantry, hospital and engineer corps. In all of these branches advancement is certain, if merit is shown.

To the rider who loves a good horse, the life of the U. S. cavalryman presents advantages not to be easily found elsewhere.

The infantry, in point of numbers, furnishes nearly one-half the strength of the army, and in this branch there are constant opportunities for advancement.

The question of travel and seeing foreign countries is by no means a small factor in the life of a soldier. Through length of service he is afforded an opportunity to become fairly well acquainted with the different sections of the United States and colonial possessions, and the countries passed through in going to and from foreign service; all this at no expense to him.

While in foreign service he is given 20 per cent. increase in pay and his time served there is counted double for the purpose of retirement.

During the year 1907, between February and October, there will be three regiments of cavalry, five regiments of infantry, and detachments of hospital corps, signal corps, engineer corps, etc., sent to the Philippine Islands to relieve troops now there who have finished their allotted tour of foreign duty.

For the first time in several years the raw recruit is now to be given a chance at foreign service, and any young man between the ages of 18 and 35, who can read and write, is single, of good moral character, and passed the required physical examination, can be enlisted, and if he so desires, can go to the Philippine Islands.

Complete and detailed information can be obtained by a personal call on or through a letter to the recruiting sergeant U. S. army, at Crider's Exchange building on Allegheny street.

Fight on Saturday Night.

It seems strange that a Saturday night can hardly pass by unless some one gets into a scrap of some kind. Last Saturday evening some fellows from Lyonstown were passing down Allegheny street, going home when some one in front of Crider's Exchange building said something that did'nt altogether please the boys from the country and one word brought on another until they decided to go back in the alley and settle the matter. One fellow had his hair pulled pretty badly and the other one received a black eye and was punched pretty hard but neither one of them was seriously injured. A bystander lost a tooth by being hit with another fellows head, of course the head was a little hard, and when the two met, the owners of the same bounced back on the ground and saw all kinds of stars. The next time they will know enough not to butt in, when two others are fighting out their grievances.

Shooting Affair at Coleville.

On Sunday evening Ollie Jodon was walking with a lady and when passing his brother Jim some remark was made that angered the young man with the lady and he turned back and went to his home and got a revolver and when near his brother fired into the air. All kinds of rumors were circulated through Bellefonte and caused a good bit of excitement, the cops went to the scene of action, but everything was as peaceful as if nothing had occurred. We don't know whether or not any arrests will be made. The handling of revolvers should not be allowed by people who are so careless as this young man.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., May 15.—The coronor's jury held an investigation over the bodies of 11 victims of the wreck of the Shriners' special train at Honda and found that the wreck was due to defective equipment of the Southern Pacific company.

None of the injured in San Luis Obispo is in serious danger except A. M. Leehe, of Easton, Pa., who is badly injured.

The total dead stand at 32.

Ismailia Temple will stop long enough on the way to take some of the injured at San Luis Obispo and the Reading funeral train will bear away the dead.

J. M. Logan, the baggageman from Buffalo is suffering from a double fracture of the leg. It will be six weeks before he is able to go home. A like time will elapse before Mrs. Fred Grummond, of Binghamton, will be out of the hospital.

Cochran's Pension Bill.

The house at Harrisburg, with only one vote in opposition, passed the Civil war veterans pension bill finally Monday night after refusing to include emergency men in its provision. Representatives S. B. Scott of Philadelphia was the lone opponent.

Representative Wickersham of Dauphin made the plea for those men, who in September, 1862, and June and July, 1863 on the eve of Antietam and Gettysburg volunteered to protect the borders of the state. Mr. Kennedy of Philadelphia declared that "not one in 20 of them ever saw a rebel." Scores objected to a request that the emergency men amendment be inserted by unanimous consent.

Mr. Wickersham then moved that the house go into committee of the whole for purpose of amendment. Several patriotic declamations were derived. Wickersham and Moyer leading. Opponents declared that emergency men, who hold discharges from the United States government can get pensions under the bill, and that the constitution prevents pensioning those who served the state only.

Many of those who opposed the amendment delared that they did so to save the pension bill, fearing that tempering with it at so late a day would jeopardize its chances. The final vote was 196 to 1.

This bill goes back to the senate for concurrence in amendments. The measure carried $1,000,000 when it passed the senate. The house committee found that this would be wholly insufficient, and that more than $8,000,000 would be required to pay the proposed pensions for two years. The bill was amended to carry more than $5,000,000 for five quarterly payments.

Chairman Sheatz of the house appropriations committee has declared that if this measure becomes a law it probably will wipe out the state's surplus and create deficit.

Hand was Amputated.

Rosa Miller, of Bellefonte, the young woman whose right hand was caught between the hot iron bars of a mangle in the laundry at the Park Hotel in Williamsport some weeks ago, underwent an operation Tuesday in which the hand, with the exception of the thumb was amputated. As a result of the injuries the hand had become putrefied and gangrene had set in. Dr. W. P. Logue performed the amputation. Every effort had been made to save the hand.

JOHN N. HALL DEAD

Respected Resident of Howard Passes Away.

John Newlin Hall died Friday morning at 10 o'clock at his home at Howard Centre county, after an illness of ten days. Mr. Hall sustained an injury last fall by being run over by a roller, but he apparently recovered from the injury and was able to attend to his usual duties. Ten days ago, however he became seriously ill, his illness doubtless being due to the effects of the injury.

Mr. Hall was 76 years old and resided in Centre county the greater part of his life. In his younger days he resided for a time in Blair county, being engaged in teaching school in Allegheny township. His wife was Susanna, daughter of the late Rev. Daniel Albaugh of Duncansville. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Ida Johnson of Kansas; Mrs. Temperance Loder of Wilmerding; Mrs. Mollie Bolick of Solona, Clinton county; John D., a Pennsylvania railroad conductor of Sunbury; and Alice, wife of Mr. Stiffler. He was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral occurred Sunday afternoon.

Half His Life has Been Spent in Jail.

A Lancaster dispatch says: Mayor McCaskey has committed to the county prison Joseph Hafey, better known as "Baltimore Joe," with a record remarkable in its ways. Though only fifty years of age, he has spent twenty-five years in jail, but not one day was for a criminal offense, nor was any single commitment for a longer period than one year, and there were but few sentences were long. The charges against him were only drunkenness and vagrancy, and his sentences usualy ranged from ten to sixty days, with an occasional ninety days or six months.

Joe in early manhood was a clerk in the customs service at Baltimore, where he was born, but liquor caused his undoing. Nearly thirty years ago he first appeared in Lancaster, and here he has been most of the time since. He soon became to the police a terror. As he was then a man of powerful physique, it usually required half a dozen men to get him to the lockup. In his numerous encounters with the police he has injured several badly, and was himself severely clubbed. Time and again he has been released on promising to leave Lancaster, but he always returned. Countless times he has attempted to drop liquor, but as often has he returned to his old habits.

Harrisburg Diocese Convenes.

In St. Matthew's Episcopal church, at Sunbury, the annual convention of the Episcopal church was held Tuesday and Wednesday. Delegates from all the parishes in the diocese to the number of 200 were in attendance. At the convention Bishop J. H. Darlington presided.

Rev. Edwin Richardson, Col. W. Fred Reynolds and Mr. C. F Montgomery of Bellefonte are attending the convention. At noon on May 15 the ladies of the church gave a luncheon in the parish house. In the evening the Church club of the diocese held its semi-annual dinner in the armory. Addresses were made by Bishop Darlington, Bishop Potter of the diocese of New York, who is a brother of the bishop. The addresses will be made by Chief Burgess Burrows of Sunbury. Arrangements are being made for the other speeches. The Church club is of comparatively recent organization. Similar clubs exist in almost every diocese in the country, and number among their members many of America's most prominent men.

It is a Boy.

Friday morning about 7 o'clock the stork flew down to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tuten on Thomas street and left in their care a bouncing baby boy. The County Register is so delighted that he really was not able to attend to any business at the Court House Friday, and friends say that he and the young Tuten were singing and a "tuten" to beat the band down on Thomas street. We are pleased to state that both Mrs. Tuten and the young man are getting along splendidly.

Bought Horses to Replace Those Lost.

H. J. Widman, Lewis Widman and George Walizer, of Lock Haven, spent several days this week in this vicinity buying horses. While here they bought three one from H. G. Stover and two from the Eisenhuth Bros, all fine horses.—Milheim Journal.

PATRONIZE HOME TRADE

Home Merchants Should be Patronized Always.

HELP OUR MERCHANTS

A Great Many of Our Citizens Deal With Firms in the City While They Should Help Build a Trade at Home.

DON'T BE A KNOCKER BUT A BOOSTER

There is no good reason under the sun why every man who makes his living in this community should not also do his buying at home. Every person who claims to be a resident of Bellefonte or of the country tributary, can find many reasons why he should make his purchases here at home, and there has never yet been found a good reason for sending away to the large mail order houses for the things which may be required. There are a few people in Bellefonte who deal exclusively at these mail order houses. The Daily News could, were it so disposed name people who buy everything they use, outside of the city, even to the things they eat. This is a practice that is fatal to the best interests of any community and it is of vital importance that it should cease.

Some people labor under the hallucination that when they are doing their buying out of town they are saving money. This is seldom the case. It is generally true that when a lower price is quoted by a city mail order house than is named by the local merchant it is for an inferior article.

Every man should remember that every time he sends a dollar to Chicago, Philadelphia or where ever it may be his opportunity for seeing that dollar again is lost. When it is spent at home, it enters into the business of the home community and instead of adding to the prosperity of another city it helps to build up the home town. And there are conveniences which your home community afford, that you should appreciate and feel like making that community prosperous. If you are taken sick, you don't get sympathy and aid from the large mail order department stores, but your neighbors at home, the butcher, baker, groceryman and the clothier, come to ask if there is anything they can do for you in your affliction. You have often seen cases of persons who were ordinarily thrifty and prosperous where assistance was needed on account of sickness or some other unavoidable cause. You have no way of knowing whether or not you will be the next to suffer in a case of that kind, and if you were, would you go to the large mail order houses for help? or would your assistance come from the local people who are entitled to your trade?

Every person in Bellefonte can realize the greatbenefit that has come to this city on account of the location of the Y. M. C. A. All will agree that the association is engaged in a great and good work, and everybody wants to see it grow greater and better. Just at this time the association is up against a pretty stiff proposition—raising $3.500. And where are they looking for aid? Do they go to the large mail order houses of the different cities. Hardly.

There comes at last a time when we all need a friend right here at home. When death enters and the bier and the shroud are in evidence we want the sympathy that comes from the lips of our friends here at home, and we don't think about the mail order houses at that time.

There are so many reasons why the people of Bellefonte should do their buying here at home, no matter what it is they may need, that it is surprising that there is so much of it done away. This is one of the ways to make Bellefonte a better and more prosperous town—by dealing at home. It is one of the ways that our larger cities were made, and it will help in the building of a substantial town here at Bellefonte. It is by helping one another that the people of this or any other community will be prosperous.

June 14 is to be Flag Day.

Warren Lee Grose, national patriotic instructor, G. A. R. has issued a proclamation calling for a general observance of Friday, June 14, as Flag Day. The proclamation urges that.

"The men of the Grand Army of the Republic who preserved the nation in the greatest war of modern times and made vital the declaration of our fathers, call upon all who live under the flag to recognize this day by patriotic observances in schools and on the Sunday preceding in churches.

"That flag now waves over a great nation, extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the lakes, from the Atlantic to beyond the Pacific sea, and inhabited by nearly ninety millions of people, all speak a common language"

Up on Lamb Street.

Were you ever up on Lamb street
The eastern part I mean,
Where the mud is too feet deep
And the worst you ever seen.
When it rains in rainy season,
When its dry or snow or sleet
You could row a boat all day.
Up
On
Lamb
Street.

The crossings are not many,
I think there is just one,
The people only use it
Except to go and come.
Girls wear gum boots all the year
And the people live in fear,
As they dread some newe to hear
That some children has been drowned,
Up
On
Lamb
Street.

Council notified the owners their walks
to all repair,
Up on Lamb street.
The street it was so muddy they didn't think it fair,
Up on Lamb street.
The council they come out as a fake
Constituing what repairs it would take
But repairs were never made
You can still boat in the shade,
Up
On
Lamb

The people pay some tax all the same,
Up on Lamb street.
No street repairs—Council is to blame,
Up on Lamb street
When a stranger wanders up the street
He is glad when he gets out,
Methink, I hear him say;
Why don't they stock her up with trout
Up
On
Lamb

There are dangerous shoals and rocks,
Up on Lamb street.
There are heards and swine and flocks,
Up on Lamb street.
There are girls galore, you know,
But one fell in the dam,
So the beaus won't venture out,
Since Mary had a little lamb,

High School Alumni Reception.

The fifth annual reception of the Bellefonte High school alumni association to the graduating class of 1907 will be given in the armory on Tuesday evening, May 28th. The committee selected to arrange for the same is as follows: J. H. Robb, chairman; Misses Eva Cuseman, Daise Barnes, Elsie Rankin, Louise Brackbill, Edna Meyer, Helen Schaeffer, Adaline Olewine, Jennie Longacre, Pearl Knisely, Bessie Brouse, and Charles Barnes. James Harshberger, Milan Walker, Jesse Derstine, Paul Weizel, Edward Gates and Calder Ray. These receptions have grown to be one of the most pleasing diversions of the High school commencement week and no effort will be spared to make this year's as successful as those held in the past.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels, (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in affecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulæ of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

At Barnesboro. The Little Mining Town was Almost Wiped off the Face of the Earth.

LOSS WAS PLACED AT $120,000.

Barnesboro, Pa. May 8th.—The bustling town of Barnesboro is certainly right in the lime light of the Central Pennsylvania stage. It comes to the front again Wednesday morning with a $120,000 fire which practically wiped out its principal business district. It was of incendiary origin and started in the meat shop of Louis Ritchwarick, located in a building owned by Mrs. David Rowley, on Philadelphia avenue and spread a block each way on the avenue and on Caroline street, completely wiping out every building in its path, one being the largest and best building in the town, the Commin's block, valued at $20,000 by the owner, James Commins. The lack of water to fight the flames made the situation grave for a time and it looked as though the entire town might be swept away. Every man in town turned his energy to aid in fighting the fire and succeeded in overcoming the fire fiend after it had practically burned itself out in the business section. The town was visited by a $50,000 fire on March 31st and it was within a short distance from the scene of this morning's fire.

Night Patrolman Edward Van Buren in patrolling the town during the quiet hours of the early morning happened along Philadelphia avenue about 2:30 o'clock. He smelled the odor of burning wood before he came upon the scene of the blaze and kept a lookout for the fire. On arriving in front of Louis Ritchwarick's butcher shop, located in a building owned by Mrs. David Rowley, he discovered the place to be on fire and burning rapidly both on the exterior and interior. The lard, bacon, etc., made excellent fuel for the flames, and they quickly spread and gained such headway that the officer was unable to fight it himself. He sounded an alarm and the shrill blasts of the whistle at the electric light plant awoke the entire populace and many of them, with the memory of the last fire still vivid in their minds, hustled to the scene of the conflagration.

The fire losses as near as could be ascertained are as follows:

Richard Scollon & Co., $50,000; James Commins, $20,000; Nicholas Russell, $6,500; Mrs. E. E Cassidy, $5,000; Charles Fagan, $4,500; Barnesboro "Star," $4,000; Cleton Shaffer, $4,000; Mrs. M. E. Prosser, $3,000; D. D. Lewis, $2,500; Solomon Brett, $2,500; Mrs. David Rowley, $2,000; Mrs. Charles Fagan $2,000; Keystone Insurance Agency, $750; Dr. H. R. Smith, $750; Hibernian and other societies, $500, Louis Ritchwarick, $3,500; Wonderland Theatre management $200; Borough Council, $150; Harry Greenwood, $100; John Acton, $100.

An Object for Pity.

One of the deplorable objects on our streets was Sammy Ostrander, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. James Woods. For years he has acted queer and of late his mind has been growing weaker, so that Mr. and Mrs. Woods decided that the young man should be placed in a suitable institution for treatment. Dr. Wilson W. Feidt, James C. Furst, Esq. and W. Miles Walker, were a commission appointed by the court to look into the sanity of the boy. It is to be hoped that he will be placed in an institution where his reason will return and he will become a strong man both mentally and physically.

Accidental Electrocution.

Cameron Boak, formerly a well known resident of Snow Shoe, but for some years living at Hughesville, narrowly escaped being electrocuted last week, and a friend who went to his rescue, did meet that fate. Mr. Boak ran into a wire which had fallen across a heavily charged electric wire and then sagged to the pavement. The shock threw him down. A neighbor seeing him fall, ran to his aid, and grasping the wire met death instantly. While removing the two from contract with the death dealing wire, two others were more or less seriously shocked and Mr. Boak's recovery was for a day very doubtful.

EVERYONE PRONOUNCED IT GRAND.

The Rector of St. Mark's Was one of the Best Home Talents Ever Produced in Bellefonte.

On Wednesday evening "The Rector of St. Marks" was played by home talent in the opera house under the auspices of the Logan Steam Fire Engine Company. Without a doubt it was one of the best home talent plays ever produced in the town and in fact some of the participants exceeded a great many professionals who have appeared here in reportorie.

It may have been on account of the rain that so few people of the town turned out to witness this play at any rate the house was just about half filled down stairs and about a corporal's guard on the gallery.

Now if some high flying thing would come to town, the people would flock to the opera house in droves in order to have their money go out of the town, but because this was a home talent and for the benifit of one of the Fire Companies the people remained away.

When the curtain rolled up about 8:30 the scene on the stage presented a most animating sight. It was the church choir of St. Marks. Twenty four young ladies and gentlemen wearing long cassacks, standing in a semi-circle around Miss Sarah Fitzgerald the soloist who sang several selections and the large choir would join in the chorus. During the rendition of these songs beautiful, colored lights were thrown on the singers which certainly had a pretty effect.

Miss Fitzgerald has a remarkably pretty voice and her song "Open Wide the Gates of Paradise" was sung in a manner that caused a great deal of comment throughout the audience.

The Rector of St. Marks is a pretty little four act drama, some and of the parts are extremely difficult to handle, but it seems as though the Bellefonte people can do almost anything at any rate they are right at home on the stage. Most every play has a hero and heroine, and of course this one last night had these parts. Miss Agnes Shields as "Irene Arnold" handled the part of the leading heroine in a special manner.

The part was most difficult, calling for emotional acting in which a home actress appearing before acquaintances is not wise in going to the extremes that might be expected of a professional, but Miss Shields preserved the commendable medium and filled the part with praiseworthy skill.

Miss Melissa Tonner as "Bess Dunchester" had a vivacious part and filled it both gracefully and skillfully. Miss Tonner is a professional actress and is perfectly at home on the stage. Her home is in Canton, Ohio, but she has been a guest of her aunt Mrs. Henry Harris, for the past few weeks. Since coming to Bellefonte she has made many friends and has become quite popular among our younger set.

"Mrs. Picken's" who always said "It is not my way," was taken by Miss Eva Crissman, she was certainly the top notch in her part, it could not have been taken better by a professional, she is a real actress, and her humerous delineation of the meddler and gossip created much amusement.

Wilson Gephart carried off the part of "Aunt Bina." His make-up made him a tipical representative of the colored "Aunty," and he contributed a large amount of fun to the drama.

Charles Noll as "Norman Wier," had a somewhat trying part, that of the respected lover, but he filled it with much success.

Russell Blair was a good representative of "Richard Heritage, M. D." a jolly young medical man with more patience than patients, who had considerable trouble in keeping the course of love running smooth. He fitted the position admirably.

Harry Otto, as "John Gorden," the broken down fugitive, looked and acted the character with skill, although it was one of the most trying and difficult ones. This was Harry's first appearance on the stage before a Bellefonte audience but he seemed to be perfectly at home.

John Trafford as "Sheriff Blake," carried out his part in the play in a splendid manner and it could not have been taken any better. The part of "Rev. Philip Dunchester," Rector of St. Mark's, was handeled by Mr. Will J. Vance under whose direction this play has been produced. Mr. Vance is at home on the stage and his part was carried out in a professional manner.

Incidental to the play was a real funny comedy sketch by Mr. Chas. Noll and Mr. Will J. Vance as German characters in an amusing controversy, and a live song by Mr. Noll.

The illustrated songs by Miss Lillian Walker made a great hit and was well received by the audience. She sang very beautifully "Where the Silvery Colorado Flows." The Solo entitled "It's the Man with the Ladder and the Hose" sung by Mr. Henry Brown was well received and it was necessary for him to answer several encores.

The crayon artist work by Fred M Snell was highly appreciated by the audience.

Miss Mary Brown was the pianoist for all this vocal music. Miss Brown is known throughout the town as one of our most accomplished musicians.

As a whole it was a highly creditable home talent production, and considering the public character of its purpose to provide material for one of our Fire Companies to put your fires out with, we think there should be a full house this evening when it will be repeated with a promise of being decidedly better than even it's creditable first presentation.

We Don't Know it All.

Why, for instance, does a horse strain a drink of water through its lips? Yhy does a cow poke her entire face into a bran mash, eat all she can and then lick her nostrils with her tongue? Why does a chicken drink exactly opposite to the horse and cow, having to hold its head up when it swallow a drink of water? Then note the pigeon, of the same feather ed family, as it keers it immersed while drinking. But a dog laps the water in its mouth. The animal, moreover, never chews its food, while the cat, his companion household pet, always chews thoroughly before swallowing. How is it that failing to masticate does not hurt a dog, while in case of all other animals, including man, unchewed food causes dyspepsia. Why has a cow a cud and why can a horse shiver its hide to drive away flies?

Chicks Overcome Rats.

One of the most remarkable stories which has come to our notice was told us last Thursday afternoon. In order that the readers may believe this wonderful tale, we can say that it is vouched for by two of our most reliable citizens, namely Rev. J. Allison Platts and C. N. Meserve secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

About two weeks previous to last Wednesday these gentlemen hatched from an incubator a number of Rhode Island red chicks and had about 38 of them in a brooder with a mesh wire yard attached. On Wednesday Dr. Platts went to the coop to see how his chicks were getting along. Imagine his feelings to see a large rat in the coop, and his surprise to find it dead.

The remarkable part of the occurrence was the fact that the rat had only killed one chick, when all the rest in the yard had, so to speak, jumped on the rat and killed him. The only way in which Dr. Platts or Mr. Meserve can explain this seemingly almost impossible victory is that the rat, which had dug under the yard, while busy with the first chick, had been pecked in the eyes by the others and blinded. He could not then find the hole where he entered and the little chicks picked at him until he actually was dead.

Eccentric Man Dies

Marion Russel, who was seldom off his farm in the 58 years of his life, has passed away at his home near Franklin. He was the most eccentric man in that section. Russel never went to school; never attended church; never shaved; and only at long intervals had his hair cut. He was never on a railroad train and never visited the county seat or other other town, yet he was bright, and in his neighborhood was considered a well posted man. He read a great deal. The only outdoor sport he indulged in was croquet.

The Exposition in Art.

Nothing that has appeared in recent years has attracted as much favorable attention and happy comment as the series of Biederman paintings of the historic Jamestown Exposition at Norfolk. Life-like color reproduction of these paintings, on plate paper, size 10x15, are being given with the New York Sunday World. The picture is worth framing.

HEIR TO SPAIN'S THRONE

The Whole Nation Rejoices over Birth

ROYAL INFANT BORN

Shortly Before one O'clock on Friday Morning. Business was at a Stand Still throughout Spain.

WILL BE NAMED PRINCE ASTURIAS.

Madrid, May 11th.—The royal flag of Spain floats over the royal palace today and every true Spaniard who gazes upon the sympol of power, emits a hearty cheer. For that flag, floating from Punta Del Diamante, is a signal to the nation that a prince of Asturias, and heir to the Spanish throne, has been born. Madrid is today wild with joy. The royal infant was born shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, and with 5 minutes all Madrid knew of the arrival of the future king. The news flashed throughout Spain and was received with the greatest rejoicing. With the placing of the royal flag over the palace the guns of the fortresses began to boom a salute the new monarch. With breathless interest the populace counted the deep reports as on them depended an answer to the question agitating Spain for weeks. Is it boy or girl? The booming guns reached fifteen then there was a moment of suspense, then with sixteenth round there was a mighty shout drowning out of every other sound. Throughout Spain it resounded for it was a boy. The cannons rounded out 21 shots but the balance of the salute was lost and forgotten. Fifteen shots would have announced the arrival of a princess. Business is at a standstill and employer and employee joined the joy rioting crowd in the streets. All Spain is "en fiesta."

Got Excited at his Own Expense.

Just what sort of a looking girl this particular telephone operator is, what she may be called or where she may live when she is at home, is something the new reporter—young and susceptible—does not know and may never find out but that she has a pleasant voice and knows her business he can vouch for. It came about one afternoon last week as he was impatiently trying to call up a gentleman, whom it was necessary that he interview.

"Speak lower, please." said the operator at the station.

"Speak lower! Why I want to be heard, I want to get No. blank," almost yelled the reporter.

"The family is calling him, and see here, sonny, let me tell you something about a hello box. Every time you yell over a telephone and get red in the face and try to say sarcastic things to the operator you are just walking on your own feet. See? sonny."

"No, I don't see, but if you'll tell me, I'll be good."

"Well, when you talk over a telephone put the transmitter about half an inch from your lips and talk slow and about half a tone lower than you would ordinarily—just about as if you would talk if you were sitting on a sofa with your girl."

"Say, what is you name?"

"Never mind. The reason is this: Just behind the mouthpiece of the transmitter is an aluminum diaphragm backed with a very thin piece of hard carbon. Hear me?"

"Perfectly, but won't you give me your name?"

"Oh, I can't. Well between this sheet of carbon and the points of contact of the wires is a space filled with finely powered carbon. The sound waves of the voice make the aluminum diaphragm vibrate and this in turn effects the carbon sheet which stirs the granulated carbon behind it"

"I can't remember all this; tells me where to find you and I'll come out and you can tell me better."

"Oh no. Listen. The electric current that is passing through the carbon powder feels all these vibrations and reproduces them in the receiver at the other end of the line, setting in motion sound waves corresponding to those in the transmitter. Do you follow me?"

"No, but I would if—"

"If you shout in the transmitter, the vibrations may be so violent as to result in only a confusing jumble at the other end of the wire. Also you are liable to injure the drum of the ear of the person to whom you are talking. Remember that they have to get this volume of sound right against the ear."

"This sounds as if you were reading it out of a book. It's awfully interesting. Tell me your name and where you live and I'll"

"Wait. Don't clip your words, as that does not make them any more distinctly heard. Always keep your temper and don't 'sass' the telephone girl next time."

"But, you are going to tell me your name."

'Nev-r-r! Here's your call."

And that is as far as the telephone girl enters into this story. Also it is the end of the story.

THE BENEFIT BASE BALL GAME.

Bellefonters Defeated by a Score of 9—2.

In the initial game Friday Bellefonte was defeated by the College boys by the score of 9—2. Bellefonte got their only tallies in the second inning when the side should have been out. The umpiring of Mr. Dodge brought forth a good deal of condemnation in the manner of his base decisions. Many thinking men to be out and called safe by him.

Friday's game was probably the largest attended in this city for many days. It was a good snappy game considering the number of runs scored by State. Had the city boys been a little better acquainted with each other in their respective positions, we are sure the game would not have been so one sided. Fullerton the Bellefonte pitcher had the "kink" put on his spit ball by the collegians in a method not often resorted to by base ball players. They chewed licorice and spit on the ball so as to make it uncontrolable for him, nevertheless he struck out eight men. The story of Bellefonte run getting is easily told. Whetstone went out short stop to first, Moore followed and reached first on an error by short, Oberlin then drove one to Ryan at third which he fumbled, Lingle next up struck out, Pat Rollins followed and cut loose for a two bagger scoring Moore and Oberlin, Jacobs was hit by pitcher and Scott went out pitcher to first thus retiring the side.

NOTES.

$100 was cleared at the base ball game on Friday. A little better than what was cleared by the home talent play.

The State College team used the "Licorice ball" while Fullerton of the Academy handled the "spit ball," that certainly did puzzle the visitors.

The Academy is playing the State Varsity at State today.

A student looking over in the direction of the furnace said "boys I got three bottles of gas over there the other day," and from the looks of the fellow he must have bought about 2doz. bottles of gasoline in Bellefonte before he went to the ball field.

A fellow wearing a pretty light suit looked violently ill on the field and after he get through getting up all he had eaten for a week past, his coat and pants had sort of a peacock green color. The booze and the wet grass was kind of hard on good clothes.

The Coleville Band music was greatly appreciated by the large crowd of people present.

We noticed along the side lines Judge Ellis L. Orvis, Dr. J. Allison Platts, Rev. Edwin Richardson, who seemed to enjoy the game to its fullest extent.

Several little boys standing near the home plate received some pretty hard knocks from foul balls.

The credit for the afternoon's pleasure is due to Mr. Sidney Krumrine and Mr. George R. Meek who spent a good bit of time and work in getting these two teams together, proceeds for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital.

9—2 was not a bad score when you come to consider the rank decisions by Dodge the Umpire.

State scrubs would have had several good balls to practice with if Dutch Otto had'nt of told them a few.

A Glorious Surprise Party.

The members of the United Evangelical Church gathered at the home of their pastor Rev. W. B. Cox on Willowbank street and tendered him a surprise party on Thursday night. During the evening he was presented with a beautiful silk umbrella with his initials handsomely engraved on the handle. The presentation speech was made by Colonel Thomas Elliott Mays, Train Dispatcher on the C. R. R. of Pa. who is one the parishoners of this church.

ISNAKE SAVES BENEFACTOR'S LIFE.

Remarkable Story of Ophidian Gratitude Comes out of Mifflin County.

The following snake story comes from Armaugh township, Mifflin county, and is good enough to retell.

When Edward Houghten, of that place, was preparing late last fall to do some threshing he discovered a black snake coiled about the cylinder of the machine, the reptile being exhausted by its efforts to escape. Houghton found that one spike of the cylinder had passed entirely through the snake's body and was holding it firmly to the cylinder. The moment the machine would start the helpless serpent would be torn to pieces.

Houghton was never in love with a snake and generally killed them whenever he came in contact with them, but the helpless condition of this one appealed to his symphaties, and he liberated it forgetting the incident and being none the wiser, thought it had probably died from its injuries.

A few days ago he was working at some machinery, and just as a wrench slipped from a bolt he was trying to loosen and threw him to the ground, he heard the warning buzz of a rattler. Upon looking up the prostrate man saw the venomous ophidian's head within a few inches of his face and coiled ready to strike. He turned cold with horror, but before he could move a muscle there was a swish through the air from an opposite direction and a large black snake twined itself in the coils of the rattler.

In an instant the two serpents were a writhing, squirming mass. The battle was short, but terrible, and in a remarkably short length of time the rattler straightened out and gave up the ghost. The blacksnake made a feeble effort to reach Mr. Houghten's side but was too weak, and in a few moments had succumbed to injuries sustained in the combat. Upon turning it over Houghten found that his ophidian preserver was the same snake he had befriended six months ago the marks of the injury being plainly visible

The rattler was three feet six inches long and had twelve rattlers and a button. Upon skinning it he found that almost every bone in its body was broken.

Mr. Houghten will preserve the body of the blacksnake in alcohol as a memento of his kindness to the reptile and the latter's gratitude in which life was the price paid.

Hurry Funerals.

"Life and death are both strenuous in New York," said an undertaker. "We get orders sometimes that shock us.

"Not long ago we had a call from a family who asked us to make a hurry up job for the reason that they had arranged to sail for Europe two days later, and they didn't want to postpone the voyage.

"What would you think of a woman who asked to have her husband buried as quickly as possible on the ground that a few days before his death they had agreed to a separation and that she would like to put away the deceased before the newspapers heard of their marital trouble? That is exactly what happened.

"That there was this case: An elderly aunt, who had been an invalid more than a year, passed away. We were asked to arrange for the funeral on the day of her death. and when we demurred unless there was some important reason we were informed by a nephew that they were anxious to know what was in her will, as the matrimonial chances of a niece depended upon what she was to get,

"Some time ago a man came into our office and said that his mother-in-law had just died and that he would like to send her body south as soon as possible because his wife wanted to attend some sort of function three days later.

"In the good old days in some parts of the country it used to be the custom for friends of the family in which a death occured to sit up with the corps. In a case given to us a few months ago we were asked to send a couple of genteel appearing employees to the house to keep the vigil. We did it, but I confess to you it seemed rather heartless."

Four Roller Skaters Hurt.

Roller skating claimed four young victims within a half-hour last night in West Philadelphia.

None of the accidents were serious, physicians at the Presbyterian Hospital say that never before has the institution had so many youthful devotees of the art of roller skating received in so short a time.

First, Jacob Isenbaum, 6 years old, of 4418 Aspen street. was treated for a broken ankle, Five minutes later Irvin Brown, 7 years old, 703 June street arrived with a lacerated forehead, due to a fall. Then came Charles McCary, 11 years old, of 3604 Aspen street, with badly damaged shins, and before the half hour was up Marjorie Gorman, 11 years old, of 216 South Fourty-fifth street was carried in, suffering from a broken jaw. All the children tearfully said they would never skate again.

Memorial Day.

The greatest day of all the year to the old war veteran is Memorial Day. May 30th has been set apart to honor the nations dead, and it's observance has become general. On this day the old soldiers who fought under the stars and stripes and those who followed the emblem of the stars and bars, are honored alike and flowers are laid on their grave. Memorial Day shows more clearly than anything else that nearly, if not all of the feeling of hatred between North and South is gone, It is a common sight to see battle marked heroes who, in the day of '61 marched off to answer the call of President Lincoln and who went to fight their own country men, lay flowers on the graves of some of the very men who were their most bitter enemies. All strife is forgotten when they go to honor the dead. But it won't be long before the keeping of the day will fall entirely on the younger generation those who fought in the Spanish-American war and the Sons of Veterans, for the boys of '61-'65 are fast being taken away from the battle-field of life and appearing before the great Judge of all men, where there is no blue nor gray, no toil nor strife. It is an inspiring sight to see the white haired veterans on the afternoon of May 30th as they march to the cemeteries. In the hand that once held a musket is clutched a bouquet of fragrant flowers and in the eyes that years ago flashed forth the fire of battle can be seen a tear drop. It is memories such as these that teach us the humanity of man to man.

EARLE C. TUTEN.

THE COMING OF THE FROM TRIAL.

Recalls that of Green and Dillen, a visit to where Green was Buried.

In a week Jacob From who is accused of murdering Josiah Dale will be tried for his life. Without a doubt the trial will cause as much excitement through out the County as the Green-Dillen case although the evidence against From is not as solid as the Commonwealth had against Jerry Condo's murderers.

On Sunday we had an occasion to visit the grave where Ira Green was buried.

Through the kindness of Mr. Charles Lucas a little plot of ground on a hill at Runville was given for this purpose. The grave is marked by a little wooden slab. Nothing at all is written on the board, but beneath that little bit of soil rests the remains of a young man whose life had almost been a blank, but connected with it was a tradgedy that stirred the county from centre to circumference with excitement. On the 9th. of this month it was just two years since he was hung and before he passed into eternity this is what he confessed to the world.

As I am to be executed on the 9th day of May for the taking of the life of Jerry Condo, and realizing that an untruthful statement from me at this time can only affect me with Him before whom I must stand to be judged for all things that I have done, whether good or bad, I am desirous of making all things right as far as it is possible for me to do; and it is in the light of the foregoing facts that I make this last statement to the Rev. W. B. Cox; this being the only full, complete and truthful statement made or authorized to be made by me. Furthermore, I do most solemnly declare that the facts as herein set forth are true and correct.

I was born August 1st, 1882, at Centreville, Elk county, Pennsylvania, moved to Centre county when eight years of age and lived in the neighborhood of Bellefonte until three years ago when I went to Tyrone.

I have been arrested ten times. On June 21st, I was arrested on the charge of breach of trust and placed in the Centre county jail. I was allowed the same privileges as the other prisoners for the first week and then I was placed in cell No. 8 with William Dillen. Why we were placed in the steel cell I don't know; I never had any difficulty with anyone in or about the jail, positively none with Mr. Condo or the Sheriff. After we were placed in the steel cell about three weeks, George Henderson started to write notes and sent them over to us by Ed. McCullough, George Kline, Freeman, Simon McGee and George Livingston. In these notes Henderson suggested that we saw off the hinges and break out of jail. We asked Ed. McCullough for a knife and he gave us a caseknife; Livingston gave us a case knife also and we used a pocket knife that belonged to Ed. McCullough, too. We nicked the edge of the knives and used them to saw off the pin in the hinge. On the 29th of July, we asked McCullough for a big iron and he gave it to us. We didn't want to keep it in our cells so McCullough kept it hid for. With it we broke the bolt or pin off. We took the big iron along down stairs so as to have something to break the big door down if it was locked—that is the wooden door outside. Our plans were from the beginning simply to break out of jail. Ed McCullough told us that the sheriff and his family were all away and that Jerry was alone. We had planned to catch Jerry and put him in a cell and if we couldn't accomplish this, to hit him but not hurt enough to kill.

Dillen was careful to make this plain before we got out of the cell and after we got down in the bath room. Livingston pushed the door back and helped us to get out of the cell. I took the brace off the iron bed and wrapped it in a stocking. I was the first one to get out of the cell and Dillen came after. I slid down the post and Dillen went down the stairs to the first floor and then we went into the bath room. After we were in the bath room awhile, George Kline came down to the big door and was talking to Fanny Mulbarger.

After Miss Mulbarger left, Kline came into the bath room and said: "I glory in you fellows' spunk." All the prisoners knew what we were going to do. About fifteen minutes after this Mr. Condo and Ed. McCollough came in. Condo locked the dorr and put the key in his right hip pocket. When Condo was on the third step, Dillen went up behind him and Condo turned around about half way and Dillen hit him on the back of the head, once. I took hold of the old man's shoulders and told him not to holler and no one would hurt him. He resisted and then I hit him with the iron with the sock wrapped around it. I led him down to the foot of the steps and set him down on the floor. While he was going up the steps bofore he hit him, George Livingston grabbed the keys from the key chain and ran up and unlocked cell No. 7 in which Henderson and Dominick Constans were locked. After he unlocked cell No 7 Livingston came down stairs and picked up the "I" iron that Dillen had dropped when he struck Condo with his fist, and he (Livingston) struck Mr. Condo one blow over the back with the "I" iron. Henderson was carrying a broom stick in his right hand and as he passed Mr. Condo where he was sitting on the floor, he struck him along the side of the head just above the ear two blows just as hard as he could strike, and Jerry rolled over on the floor. Dominick Constans came down the stairs and jumped on him with, I can't say whether one foot, or both feet. By this time the big iron door was open and I was the first one out, then Dillen, Livingston, Dominick and Henderson last. We went around the north side of the jail outside of the town, then across the fields to Muncy mountain; went over into the Allegheny mountains, near March Creek; stayed around in there until Sunday, down through the streets of Howard on Sunday night about 10 o'clock; stayed that night in a big red barn just below Howard. About nine o'clock Monday morning we started from there and walked the railroad to Beech Creek, went down along the creek and Monday night we stayed in the woods. Tuesday we went down the creek a little farther and went in swimming and came out of the water, and we were sitting in the shade when Mr. Harvey, of Flemington, and his party came up to where we were and told us to hold up our hands. We were then taken to the Lock Haven jail, and afterwards brought to the Bellefonte jail.

IRA GREEN.

Young Mother has Twenty Four Babes.

The twenty-fourth child has been born to the Rev. and Mrs. George W. H. Ross, of the Oak Mills neighborhood, near Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Ross is only 38 years of age. This is believed to be the record for childbirths in the United States. Still more remarkable is the fact that Mrs. Ross looks several years younger than she really is. Mr. Ross is considerably older than his wife. The oldest child is not yet quite 21 years of age showing that in a number of cases twins were born.

Mr. Ross is an enthusiastic supporter of President Roosevelt, but the fact that he began rearing a family before Roosevelt was put on record on this question goes to show that he has not been guided by Roosevelt's antipathy to "race suicide." Mr Ross does not look upon his family as anything unusual, and is apparently as proud of the last baby as the first. Mr. and Mrs. Ross are very popular in the neighborhood where they live, and their children are all bright and energetic.

A Woman's Walk.

Walking badly is a defect commonly seen. Let any one who doubts it look from a window that commands a view of the public thoroughfare, and note how few of the women who pass by hold themselves well or move gracefully. Imagine the scene is a stage, and regard people critically, as if they were actors or actresses. At once their method of wobbling, or slouching or striding, or hobbling, or dragging will show up in a way that would be ridiculous on the stage, where a good walk is the first thing cultivated. Many women walk like a worn-out cart horse, making a labor of every step, without ease, grace or lightness. The general fault of bad walkers is that they rest on the heel longer than on any other part of the foot. That this is a very common defect can be seen by looking at the snapshot photographs reproduced in the papers, most of which depict some one resting firmly on his heel and showing the whole sole of his foot to the observer. The toe should strike the ground first.

"A Palace by the Sea." Such is the next of the New York Sunday World's series of color pictures of the Jamestown Exposition at Norfolk. Artist Biedermann has caught the fleeting atmosphere of this Southern scene and pictured it with his brush. The World's pictures are accurate productions of the above paintings. Getting the Camp Ready.

Lieutenant R. A. Zentmyer quartermaster of the Sheridan Troop, will act as engineer officer in laying out the lines of the Second Brigade camp at Tipton. General Wiley, the brigade commander, with his quartermaster, Major Anshutz will be at the camp site on Thursday next, where they will meet Lieutenant Colonel Richardson, the division quartermaster, and other officers who will be present to settle the details of the arrangements. Major Anshutz has already completed his schedule for the transportation to and from the camp and expects to save on wagon hire, as the railroad station is but a quarter of a mile from the camp site. The major will contract for forty teams for the heavy hauling, and the men will carry the lighter stuff. The major believes he will be able to obtain forage and other quartermaster stores in and around Tipton. The water will be secured from the Pennsylvania Railroad's large main, which will be tapped for the purpose of supplying the camp, the water being piped into each regiment on the kitchen line.

Old Fashioned.

What has become of the old fashioned man who wore paper collars?

What has become of the old fashioned man who went home "to dress up," before going anywhere?

What has become of the old fashioned man who was always figureing on a greattime when his ship came in?

What has become of the old fashioned parents who pulled their babies through a horse collar for "liver growth?

What has become of the old fashioned woman who said she worked her fingers to the bone slaving for her children?

What has become of the old fashioned woman who spoke of light hearted people as those who hadn't a load on their hearts they couldn't kick off at their heels?

The Register's Office Decorated

The Register's office was beautifully decorated Friday with American Flags, bunting and other emblems showing the great rejoicing over the arrival of the heir at the Tuten home. A large picture painted by some renounced artist hung above the Register's desk. It was a splendid reproduction of Mr. Tuten rocking the little one to sleep, with the following words below "Me and Pop Editors and Proprietors of the Bellefonte Daily News and Republican and Registers of Centre County." On the desk was placed a large five gallon can of "Horlicks" malted milk. Congratulations are pouring into the Tuten home and at the Register's office and at the Daily News office from all over the county.

Ends Life of Misfortune

Chicago, May 14.—Six reasons why he killed himself were given by Beaufort L. Leede, a guest of the Warner Hotel, who was found dead in his room last night, having committed suicide by taking strychnine. The reasons were as follows:

1 I have been dissatisfied since I was a child.

2 I have been handicapped through out life.

3 One part of my body has been partly paralized for the past ten years.

4 My right hand has been ruined by an accident.

5 I have been a sufferer from neuralgia.

Leede, who it is supposed was a chemist, left a letter addressed to Blanche Keller, Swanton, O., and it is believed his home is at that place. He was about 30 years old.

Churchman Suspended.

Publication of the Harrisburg Churchman, the official organ of Bishop Darlington, has been suspended with the issue of the May number Saturday. The suspension may be permanent and may be only temporary.

Since the erection of the Diocese of Harrisburg of the Protestant Episcopal church, this organ has been issued monthly under the supervision of the Bishop, Rev. Robert F. Gibson, rector of Trinity church, has been the editor. An editorial announcement in the latest issue of the paper says that suspension has been decided upon because the high standard of the organ could not be mantained with the present financial resorces.

Ollie Jodon Arrested

Ollie Jodon the young man who fired three shots on Sunday evening either in the air or at his brother Jim who it is said had angered him while out walking with a young lady was arrested on Tuesday afternoon by George Jodon. The young fellow gave bail of $1000 for a hearing to be held on June 1st between 9 and 10 in the morning. The hearing would have been held at an earlier date but James Jodon is employed at Orvis and cannot get home before then. David Kelley manager of the American Lime & Stone Company went Jodon's bail.

Only Forty Dollars Cleared.

The two night's production of "The Rector of St. Mand's," only put forty dollars into the treasury of the Logan Fire Company. We are not a bit surprised, in fact we didn't think they would clear that much as both nights you could have counted everyone in the house in about two minutes. It is certainly too bad, as the young people worked so hard and earnestly to make it a success, and it undoubtly was, then for the people of Bellefonte to give them a cold shoulder.

Governor's Appointments.

Harrisburg, May 14—Governor Stuart sent the following nominations to the Senate tonight:

John W. Schall, of Norristown, to be brigadier general of the National Guard of Pennsylvania for the term of five years, to compute from May 19, 1904.

John A. Wiley, of Franklin, to be a brigadier general of the National Guard of Pennsylvania for the term of five years, to compute from Nov. 30, 1905.

—Sears, Roebuck & Co., the great mail order firm of Chicago, have closed their grocery department, the pure food law has driven them out of business. They sold inferior adulterated groceries, and the new law told them they must label their goods properly. Rather than do this they quit that part of their business. They will continue to hunt suckers through their departments. They cannot compete with local dealers and be honest.

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nervine nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors.

"They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength, and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

Judge for Yourself.

Wednesday of last week Hock Toner the horseman, sold a horse to the Reed brothers for $3. After they had him for a couple of day he got so weak that he could hardly stand. It's shoulders were so sore that the puss was oozing out of them. Saturday the Reed boys brought him to Bellefonte and tied him to "Hock" Toner's stable near the match factory. The horse finally got down on the ground and couldn't get up. Policeman William Beezer was notified of the terrible condition of the animal when he was authorized by Dominck Judge, chairman of the sanitary committee, to shoot it and thus put it out of misery. Ira From then hauled it out where it was buried. This was a clear case of cruelty to animals and some one ought to have been made to answer for it.

SECOND CHAPTER.

On Thursday Ira From was asked by Toner to go and water his horses in the stable, and when he opened the door at the barn a horrible sight was presented to him. One horse was dead and the other one laying up against the side of the stall just ready to drop. We asked Mr. From what was the cause of these horses dying in this manner and he said they needed a good bit of water and something to eat.

This case certainly should be looked into by our humane society if we have one, and if not, the District Attorney or other proper officials should take the matter up. The idea of anything of this kind happening right here in Bellefonte.

Suspect Black Hand Of Altoona Blaze.

Altoona, Pa., May 14.—A $10,000 fire occurred at the armory of Company E, fifth regiment, N. G. P., Tuesday morning. It is believed members of Black Hand stole a red lantern from a street obstruction near the building and used the oil it contained to start the fire. The entire equipment of the company, including rifles, ammunition, and paraphernalia, was destroyed.

The Ward-Mackey Biscuit Company which occupied the first floor, had its stock ruined by water. The losses are partially insured.

The walls of the building were saved.

Another Good Snake Story.

Howard Klinger brakeman on the L & T tells this story and without a smile he said it was a fact.

One day last summer he was out fishing along a stream that runs near his home at Shamokin, all at once he spied a large rattle snake back in the bushes, he took his hooks off the line and made a strong loop and lassoed Mr. Snake. He then got the reptile in such a position that he could easily handle it. He extracted the poisonous fangs and took it home, and kept it for months around the house. The snake became tame and the children played with it and carried it around like adoll, and when Mr. Klinger would come home from work in the evening the snake would waggle to the door to meet him. One night a burgler had gained an entrance to their home, and the reptile seeing what he had intended doing jumped on him, wound himself around him and rattled so loud with his rattlers that the whole household was awakened. The result was the burgler was caught and tried and sent to prison—Klinger says he has not drank any thing for over a year.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease another from nervous exaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uaterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, gets wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to women's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

A BEJEWELED MONARCH.

The New Shah of Persia, His Crown and His Costly Thrones.

Mohammed Ali Mirza, the new shah of the Persian empire, made an impressive figure when he ascended the throne on the 19th of last January. He was crowned at Teheran at midday surrounded by the Persian princes, the ministers of state, the high Persian functionaries and the diplomatic corps. Though Persia is now a constitutional monarchy, with a parliament to assist the shah in the government of the country, the entry of the young shah upon his kingly responsibilities was made an occasion for the traditional oriental magnificence. It was a brilliant spectacle when he ascended the famous peacock throne and the grand vizier placed upon his head the crown of the ancient empire. It is so heavy with precious stones that the monarch removed it from his head as soon as a proper adherence to custom would permit. The peacock throne itself, upon which he sat during the ceremony, represents a value of many millions. The silver of its framework can scarcely be seen, so incrusted is it with diamonds. Besides the peacock throne, there are the ruby throne and the marble throne, both magnificent and almost priceless. The photograph of the shah reproduced in the accompanying picture and showing him at the moment of his coronation was taken by the Prince Abdullah Mirza.

That Nickel Saved His Life.

When Dr. Briggs arrived at the Meachem house he found his patient in a comatose condition, which made necessary several hours of restorative labor.

"Now, how did this happen?" he demanded of Mrs. Meachem when the trouble was over. "Did you give him the powder I left?"

"Yes, sir."

"As much as would go on a dime and no more?"

"Yes, sir—that is, we couldn't find a dime, so I shook a nickel and five pennies out of Willie's bank and gave him just what they would carry."

"It's lucky the nickel was there, so that you didn't have to use five more coppers," remarked the doctor dryly.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghampon, N. Y. on every bottle.

MERRY AND ZELAYA.

Uncle Sam's Envoy and His Trouble With Nicaragua's Chief Executive.

The experiences of William Lawrence Merry, the United States minister to Nicaragua, who recently became persona non grata to President Zelaya of that republic, read like some of the adventures of Richard Harding Davis' characters in the latter's stories of Latin-American republics. Minister Merry's troubles with the Nicaraguan executive occurred in connection with the war between that state and Honduras. Mr. Merry is sixty-five years old and a native of New York. As a boy he went to sea and in time became commander of steamships on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans engaged in the California trade. For years his home was in San Francisco, and he was for some time president of the San Francisco chamber of commerce. Becoming interested in the promotion of trade between Nicaragua and the United States, he acted as agent for several steamship companies in Nicaragua and was president of the North American Navigation company. He was consul general of Nicaragua on the Pacific coast of the United States for a time and was an active supporter of the Nicaraguan canal project and of maritime development of Pacific ports. He is the author of several works on these subjects. In 1897 he was appointed United States minister to Nicaragua, San Salvador and Costa Rica.

It is denied that Mr. Merry was expelled from Nicaragua by President Zelaya or that he had a fist fight with the Nicaraguan president, but incidents which occurred put an end to pleasant relations between the two. Mr. Merry claims that his correspondence was tampered with by direction of Zelaya. The minister closed his legation and was about to sail from Corinto, Nicaragua, to Costa Rica when an American vessel came into port, whose captain reported that the Nicaraguan authorities had infringed upon his rights.

Minister Merry went aboard the vessel, the Barracouta, and as the Nicaraguan minister of war had threatened to visit her with an armed force the American diplomat authorized her captain to arm his crew and officers, attach the hose to the fire pipes and be ready to defend the ship by means of hot water. Captain Merry then sent to the hotel for his baggage, hoisted the legation flag to the mainmast and gave notice that the ship for the time being was the American legation and American territory. The Nicaraguans thereupon abandoned their contemplated assault, and no bloodshed occurred nor were the Nicaraguans even given an impromptu hot shower bath.

Rossini's Watch.

In 1824 Charles X. presented Rossini, the composer, with a repeating watch, studded with diamonds, and playing two of Rossini's melodies. Nobody in Bologna could clean the watch, so it was sent in the care of the tenor, Fabiano, to Paris, where it was destroyed in a fire. Plivee, the watchmaker, thereupon made a second watch, the exact counterpart of the first, except that the diamonds were false, and Rossini, who never discovered this pious fraud, wore the trinket all his life. On his death it passed to a relative, whose son sold it to an Englishman. It is said to contain an excellent portrait in enamel of Rossini as he was in 1824.

English and French Husbands.

When an English wife has hysterics her husband is immediately bored and goes to his club or else he says: "You are not very well, my dear. Shall I send for a doctor?" The Frenchman, au contraire, has hysterics too. The Frenchman may fight with his wife, love her, hate her, kiss her or kill her, but indifferent to her, superior to her, never!—Pol de Leon in London World.

The Truth of It.

Teacher—Johnny, can you define for us the difference between "caution" and "cowardice?" Johnny—Yessum. When you're scart to go out on a boat and stay home for fear it'll sink and the boat comes in all right, it's "cowardice." Teacher—Well? Johnny—And if you're scart and stay home and the boat does sink, then it's "caution."

EDNA MAY'S NEXT MARRIAGE.

Her Reported Engagement to the Rich Oscar Lewisohn.

Devotees of the stage have been much interested in the announcement that Edna May will marry a millionaire before the year is over and will then terminate her career as an actress. The lucky man is Oscar Lewisohn, son of the late copper magnate, Adolph Lewisohn of New York. Young Lewisohn has a fine estate in England, called Summer Hill, near Ascot, and this will be the home of the actress after her marriage, according to the statement of her father, Edgar C. Petrie, a Syracuse (N. Y.) letter carrier, who recently returned from a visit to his daughter Edna and her two sisters in London. Miss May is now appearing in London in "Nellie Neal." Her contemplated marriage will not be her first venture into matrimony. She was formerly the wife of Fred Titus, the professional bicycle rider. She obtained a divorce from him about two years ago. A year ago her name was coupled with that of Oscar Lewisohn, but she told inquirers that he was only "a platonic friend." Instead of her wedding him or anybody else "within forty-eight hours," she said, she would be pleased if the newspapers would "raise the time limit to forty-eight years."

Edna May made her first appearance on the stage when she was seventeen in the chorus at the Olympia theater, New York. Later on she was "discovered" by George W. Lederer when he was rehearsing "The Belle of New York." He gave her the part of the Salvation lassie, in which she made a hit. Soon after she went to London, and her popularity there has been phenomenal.

For the Future.

The secret of happiness is inward. People had good times when there were no friction matches, no brilliantly illuminated streets, no steamboats or railroads, no sewing machines, no postage stamps, no comfortably heated homes, no telegraphs or trolleys. The elements of happiness are not in things, but in human nature itself. But the fairer conditions, the greater opportunities, which the marvelous modern inventions afford to the masses of our humanity should augment our joy and expand our hopes. The most obvious fact of human history is that of progress. The race is following a flying and a growing ideal. It is inspired and saved by hope. Every helpful invention, every improvement of sanitary conditions, every new ray of intellectual and spiritual illumination, every scientific achievement, every amelioration of physical suffering, every new avenue of enjoyment, every victory of righteousness, every faithful deed in lowly and lofty places, increases the splendor and the power of our vision of the future.—Leslie's Weekly.

The Chappie—What curious mistakes men make sometimes! I've just been reading, for instance, that Columbus imagined that he had discovered the Indies. The Married Man—Ah, I made a worse mistake than that. When I married my wife, I thought I'd discovered paradise.—Cassell's Magazine.

Woman's Watchword Is Modesty.

Whatever threatens woman's delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits disease of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which most physicians think necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modesty.

Any sick woman may write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters of consultation being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no advertising or other printing upon them. Such consultation costs you nothing whether you take treatment from Dr. Pierce or not.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God-send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It enables women suffering from "female weakness," prolapsus uteri, retroversion, anteversion, and other displacements of the organs distinctly feminine, to cure themselves right in the privacy of their homes. Pelvic catarrhal drains, painful or irregular periods, backache, frequent headaches, weak nerves, dragging-down pain or distress in the lower abdominal, or pelvic, region, gnawing sensation in stomach, dizziness, or faint spells, and kindred conditions and symptoms are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not a secret or patent medicine, against the use of which most people of intelligence naturally object, but is, in fact, the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and experienced physician in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments and who is not afraid to publish all its ingredients, as he does, on its bottle-wrapper, attesting the correctness of the same under oath.

"Favorite Prescription" is the one medicine for woman's delicate ailments which contains neither alcohol, nor harmful, habit-forming drugs, being a pure glyceric extract of curative principles found in our most valuable native, medicinal roots, as attested by many of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this PROVEN REMEDY OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are effected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. More News from the New England States.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who after almost losing hope of resovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all suffering incident to acute kidney trouble.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

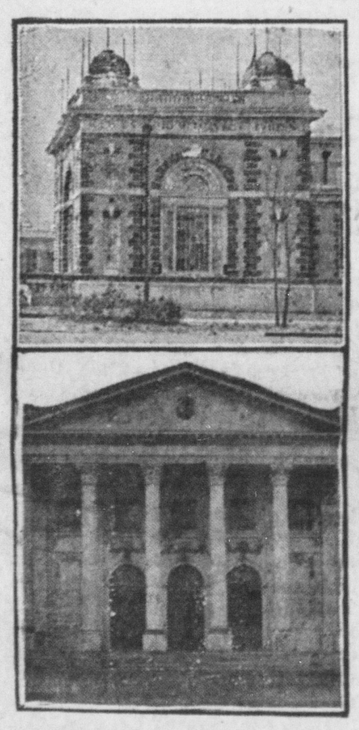
Odd Phases of Jamestown's Fair.

WHEN it was decided to hold an exposition to commemorate the tercentennial of the settlement of Jamestown from April 26 to Dec. 1, this year, the promoters of the enterprise set about the task of making it different from similar projects of the past. They were fortunate in receiving the hearty support of the United States government for their plans and in obtaining from a large number of states appropriations for buildings and exhibits. The South American states responded in most instances to the advances made by representatives of the exposition, so that almost all will have some kind of participation in the tercentennial.

The United States government, instead of making a large appropriation in aid of the fair itself, set apart about $1,500,000 to be used in the construction of its own buildings at the exposition and in the erection of two extensive piers in front of the fair grounds. It has put forth efforts in furtherance of the great international naval display, which is to be held under its auspices beginning May 13 and ending Nov. 30. President Roosevelt on the authorization of congress invited all the nations of the earth to send their ships of war to participate in this display, and it has been estimated that the value of the battleships, cruisers, torpedo boats and other naval craft taking part will not fall short of $250,000,000. Besides this there will be a great assemblage of maritime and pleasure craft and ships representing the progress made in maritime industries in the past 300 years. There will be twenty yacht races on the waters of Hampton Roads, and one of the spectacles which will attract the widest interest will be the reproduction of the famous contest between the Merrimac and Monitor. The federal government has set aside a large portion of its appropriation for this spectacle, which will be repeated at stated times during the exposition season, and the fight will occur on the exact spot where the original engagement took place during the civil war. As it happens, this was precisely in front of the exposition grounds



CORNER OF MINES BUILDING AND FRONT OF AUDITORIUM BUILDING.

The advantage the exposition possesses by reason of its location on the shores of Hampton Roads has been seized and well utilized in the planning of the grounds and the aquatic features of the show. The entrance to the exposition from the direction of the ocean is under a magnificent arch, illuminated at night with thousands of electric lights. Passing under this arch, the boats enter Smith harbor, named in honor of Captain John Smith, and persons on stepping ashore find themselves in Raleigh square. The basin known as Smith harbor is formed by piers extending out into the waters of Hampton Roads 2,000 feet. They are 200 feet wide, and on the shore line accommodate handsome passenger stations. At the farther ends they are joined by a third pier, arched in the center, to admit of the passage of water craft beneath. These farther ends of the piers contain towers equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus and powerful searchlights. The piers were erected by the government at an expense of $400,000. The basin formed by the piers comprises an area of forty acres and will be used for all sorts of minor aquatic events. The electric illumination of the piers, together with the subaqueous illumination of the basin, will form a most brilliant and novel spectacle.

One of the historical features of the fair is the reproduction of the village of Jamestown as it is supposed to have appeared in the seventeenth century, with stockades, forts and Indian villages. Among the spectacles and entertainments on the War Path, the Jamestown Midway, will be some having historical themes, one of the latter being a drama entitled "Pocahontas," putting on the boards the romance of the Indian princess who saved the life of Captain John Smith.

It is well there is no one without a fault, for he would not have a friend in the world.—Hazlitt.

ERMETE NOVELLI.

The Great Italian Actor, Now Starring In United States.

Ermete Novelli, the Italian actor, now on a starring tour of this country, is sometimes called the Edwin Booth of Italy. His first visit to the United States was made two years ago. Since the death of Salvini he has been recognized as the head of his profession in Italy. He is supported by Olga Jinini, who is one of the most famous of Italian actresses and who has been his leading woman for about twenty years. Signor Novelli is tall and strongly built, and the stage has been his home since childhood. His father was a count who ran away from home because he was averse to becoming a priest and who was acting as prompter in a theatrical troupe traveling through Italy when the son Ermete was born. The child's playthings were marionettes and his recreations the performances of dramas in miniature. He was successively waiter in a restaurant, barnstormer, comedian and finally tragedian. He plays comedy and tragedy with equal facility and is very versatile, having a repertory of about 100 plays. Six of Shakespeare's dramas are numbered in this list. Signor Novelli is about fifty-five years old. He has made several tours of leading South American countries and came to the United States for his present tour from Mexico, where he was received with much enthusiasm.

ERMETE NOVELLI.

Placing the Responsibility.

For six months or more the druggist's assistant had occupied his leisure moments by writing verses for the village paper, in the "poets' corner" of which publication they appeared anonymously every Thursday, says the Youth's Companion. On opening his copy of the Weekly Bugle one morning, and, turning first, as was his regular habit, to that particular corner, he was surprised and gratified beyond measure to see his name in full appended to his latest poetical outbreak.

He hastened to call at the office of the Bugle.

"Mr. Stires," he said to the editor, "I want to thank you for signing my name to my poem in this week's paper. It encourages a fellow when he gets proper credit for his work."

"Oh, that's all right, Jobson," responded the editor. "We thought it was about time to place the responsibility for that poetry where it be longed."

His "Richt" Name.

From queer names and descriptions of things there follow as a natural sequence queer names and descriptions of people. Among a number of racy instances is one quoted by Mr. Fox-Davies, the well known authority on nomenclature, from Blackwood's Magazine, of April, 1842. "In one of the Buchan fishing villages a stranger had occasion to call on a fisherman of the name of Alexander White. Meeting a girl, he asked, 'Can ye tell me fa'r Sanny Fite lives?' 'Filk Sanny Fite?' quoth she. 'Muckle Sanny Fite?' said he. 'Filk muckle Sanny Fite?' 'Muckle lang Sanny Fite.' 'Filk muckle lang Sanny Fite?' 'Muckle lang gleyed Sanny Fite!' shouted the exasperated man. 'Oh, it's Goup-the-Lift ye're seeking,' answered the girl, 'and fa' the de'il for dinna ye speer for the mon by his richt name at ance?'"

Retribution.

"You don't mean to tell me that you have the nerve to defy the janitor!" whispered the flat dweller tremblingly, shutting the door fast and barring it. "To question his motives, to talk to him openly to his face? Don't do it! Don't do it! Retribution will overtake you if you do. Ten years ago, when I first took this flat, I did the same thing."

Her voice trembled. "He owns the building, owns it actually, I say—bought it with his tips—and look at me now!"—New York Press.

Perplexing Associations.

The frequent association of things between which there is no obvious connection is always rather perplexing, says Barry Pain. Why do vegetarians generally believe in votes for women? Why are good chess players generally fond of coffee? Why have artists generally got pleasant voices? Why are humorous writers mostly melancholy people? I suppose there is an explanation if one could think it out.

Better Cigar Values at Lower Prices Than Ever Sold Before

Leading Brands; Unvarying Quality; Proper Condition

NATIONAL CIGAR STANDS

Important News for Smokers

Here's the National Cigar Stands' Proposition

Some 2,000 American druggists (the undersigned included in the number), have united in a new plan for conducting the cigar branch of their business.

Heretofore, each store has bought its cigars independently; usually from jobbers and in quantities necessarily small. The prices paid were loaded with from four to six unnecessary profits and were always on a small-quantity basis besides.

Now, these 2,000 stores have concentrated their cigar-buying power in a single, co-operative concern—the National Cigar Stands Company. These 2,000 stores and the National Cigar Stands Company which must provide them with cigars, becomes the largest single customer for tobacco ever known in the history of the cigar business.

Constitute The Greatest Retail Cigar Outlet On Earth

The commercial advantage of a large purchasing power is well-known. The National Cigar Stands Company takes at once a masterful position in the tobacco market. It can, and does, own its own brands, control its own factories, make its own prices. In all this it merely acts for the druggists who own it, and each store gets the full benefit of all the advantages acquired and all the savings effected.

SOME N. C. S. EXCLUSIVE BRANDS

Unequaled in Quality for Price In the History of Cigar Retailing!

Black & White: equal to best 5c for 10c. 5c

College Days: best domestic cigar ever sold at 6 for 25c

Admiral: a first-class domestic cigar, possessing superior workmanship 7 for 25c

Lord Carvel: fine Havana-Sumatra Cigar ever made 8 for 25c

Cuba-Roma: all clear Havana, usually sold at 3 for 10c 5c

La Idalia: choice clear Havana—a wide favorite at 8 for 25c

El Carvajal: highest grade imported Havana 10c and up

The saving in manufacturing and buying is almost equaled in the saving in selling expense. The distribution from producer to retailer being direct, there is no expense for jobbers or traveling salesmen. There is little or no rent to be charged on the prices of cigars by National stands and no extra salaries for sales people.

In brief, the cigars come to the National stands freed of all middlemen's profits and can be sold practically free of expense. Between producer and smoker there are but two small profits instead of the usual four to six big ones. The result of this double saving is that

Never Before Have Cigars Been Sold So Close to Cost of Production

The proof of this will be found in the cigars now offered for sale. They give a quality never before known at the prices asked. The brands are all the exclusive production of, by and for the National Cigar Stands. Let them speak for themselves.

All National Stands are equipped with a new and scientifically designed storage case which constantly and automatically maintains the proper atmospheric conditions necessary to keep the cigars at their best.

It isn't a National Cigar Stand unless the National's emblem is in the window.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well —Concilman W. H. Derstine is having a new flagstone pavement put down in front of his property on Penn street this week.

—It is said the Fifth Regiment Band of Clearfield has been engaged for the National Convention of Elks at Philadelphia in July next.

—On Tuesday Governor Stuart signed the bill appropriating $179,530 92 to pay for buildings and repairs at The Pennsylvania State College —County Superentendent David O. Etters has been appointed a member of the board of examiners for the State Normal school, at Lock Haven.

—The first two young men to enlist for service in the regular army at the recruiting station in Crider's Exchange were Joe Gregg and Robert Switzer.

—The fellow that drives that two wheel gig so fast up and down High street wants to cut it out. One of these days he will be surprised by deing pulled in.

—The venerable Henry Heaton suffered two strokes of paralysis the forepart of the week and his condition is now one of entire helplessness as well as so critical that his life is despared of.

—Governor Stuart Thursday approved a bill making it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 and one year's imprisonment, to distribute packages of medicine or candy at houses or on a public highway.

—Samuel McMurtrie, who is now in his seventy-seventh year and is one of the oldest residents of Coleville, is confined to his home with an illness which his many friends hope will be of short duration.

—In last week's issue reference was made to Miss Verna Resrick, of Lansdowne, as having possibly been acting the part of a detective while in Centre Hall. The suspicion is now conclusively confirmed. What information, if any, she gained is not known.

—William P. VanTries, son of our townsman, Dr. T. C VanTries, was one of the graduates from the Princeton Theological Seminary on Tuesday. After a brief visit at his home he will go to Newark, N. J., where he has accepted a a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church.

—One chilly day a beam of sunshine, coming into the room through the shutters, mads a bright spot on the carpet. The little dog that had been lying in a dark corner got up at once and went and lay down in the patch of sunshine. That is what we should do in our larger life. When into any darkness or gloom of ours, even the faintest ray of light streams, we should accept it. and sit in its brightness.

—Col. E. R. Chambers, who held a position the past four years as an auditor of the accounts of various state charitable institutions, was notified this week that the appointment under Stuart's administration had been awarded to another gentleman. While Mr. Chambers held this office he made a good record for efficiency and fidelity in the discharge of his duties. It seems that there was a fellow with a stronger pull who got the place.

—The trustle over the pike near the tollgate, on the way to Pleasant Gay, is a thing of the past. The Nittany valley railroad tracks have been lowered to the pike and a switchback has been made along the hill for the purpose of running cars into the yard of the Nittany Iron Works. The improvement seems to be a good one, only it will require the traveling public to stop, look and listen for the cars, especially when going towards Pleasant Gap.

—Bellefonte seems to be the Mecca for broker shops, as in the near future there will be three in full sway here. This means that someone is playing the board pretty hard. The latest is in Crider's stone building in the room formerly occupied by Jos. Runkle, the plumber. It will be in charge of C. V. Tuttle, who is operating a place of business at Huntingdon. It is to be hoped that he will just crowd the place with millionaires who will flood the town with greenbacks of every denomination. The wires for the instrument were run into the room Wednesday and it will be but a short time until the office will be open for business.

—Melvin Derr extra fireman on the shifter is laid up with a very sore hand

—George Beezer was appointed manager of the Palace Livery on Monday afternoon to succeed William Rhinesmith.

—Gilbert Nolan son of Mr. and Mrs Edward Nolan fell from a wagon on Friday and broke his collar bone.

—Rev. Franklin T. Eastman, of Lewistown, has been unanimously selected Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Philipsburg.

—Hurrah! the Undines are going to have a big blow out at Hecla Park on the 4th July. We don't need to go to Jersey Shore.

—It has been requested by the prisoners at the jail that the Salvation Army hold meetings there every Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

—County Superintendent David O. Etters has been appointed a member of the board of examiners of the State Normal School, at Lock Haven.

—The Clearfield Raiteman's Journal says that 75 families have left that place since January 1, and that the voting population has been reduced 200 votes.
